PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

STUDENTS, PARENTS, STAFF

It is with great pride that we look back at our school year. Our student attendance and staff attendance continue to rise. We believe these changes occurred through a successful partnership with parents and our school staff.

Changes in classroom practices have affected student learning in that we have tried to encourage our students to believe that learning comes from effort. Students must realize that they can control their futures, as well as individual motivation, persistence, cooperation, and other pro-social behaviors. By demonstrating effort, we will see positive impact on graduation rates, student attendance, success in high school and in college. Additionally, a belief in effort will strengthen student success in their work places learning experiences, a crucial component of the state's effort to improve standards for all students. Research shows that student learning is a result of effective effort, and much less the result of intelligence. Students and teachers who believe that success in school is related to their efforts will persist through failures and ultimately achieve success.

Finally, I wish the class of 1997 success in their high school endeavors. I believe that through your efforts we will see you at your graduation in the year 2001. You know that your teachers and staff members at Maxson Middle School will support you in all your efforts.

Good luck and best wishes for a great summer. I wish I were able to find the words to say thank you, the Maxson Community, for your extraordinary performance and support this year.

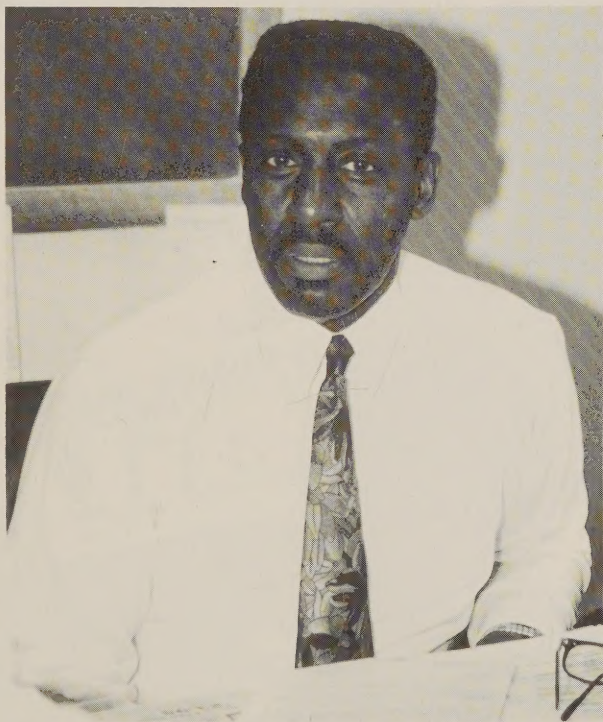

Sincerely,

Louis A. Lopez

THANKS! GRACIAS!

Each year as we work to complete the yearbook, I am always struck by the dedication of the students. This year was no exception. Each staff member was willing to go the extra mile. Although we did lose one or two weary souls along the way, those who stayed deserve a "special thanks". Melanie Byrd, Tiffani Stevens, and Daniel Pulido should be commended for being responsible, reliable, and true troopers. Special thanks to their parents for being so very understanding and supportive. Good luck to the outgoing "8" grade class; best wishes for your future.
